

▶ OUTSIDE IS IN! Indoor/outdoor entertaining is so very SoCal

HEAT CHIC

"Modern design in SoCal influenced architects and designers throughout the world," says Laguna architect Anders Lasater, designer of this indoor/outdoor space.

THE SPACE RACE

Laguna architect Anders Lasater knows that "outdoor living is a quintessentially California idea." The influence of early modernists like Neutra and Schindler can be seen in this recent Lasater design, as the walls of the pool cabana seem to dissolve away to embrace the outdoor living spaces that reflect the rooms within. "The home has no inside or outside," he says. "It is simply space for living as defined by walls or topography, ceilings or sky, light and shadow." anderslasaterarchitects.

O.C. SUNSET

"A building can be designed to satisfy by the month with the regularity of a provider. Or it can give satisfaction in a very different way, by the moment, the fraction of a second, with the thrill of a lover."

—Richard Neutra
